

The 2004/2005 Global Challenge Race

Speaker: Don Krafft

Time: 12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m.
Thursday, October 13th

Location: Building 262, Room 100

Description: This presentation will be about Mr. Krafft's experience as an amateur sailor and day-worker racing around the world the wrong way (from east to west) and will cover the race preparations and history, with a focus on the racing and life aboard. He will also discuss the challenges of joining a crew of 16 people, that didn't know each other ahead of time, and forming a competitive round-the-world racing team.

Speaker Background:

Don Krafft is a long-time amateur sailboat racer and cruiser. He's a satellite systems engineer at Lockheed Martin in Sunnyvale and has spent much of his career in Europe. He's traveled extensively in Europe, Africa, and Asia. Don lives in Sunnyvale and races and cruises on San Francisco Bay and the nearby ocean.
